Removing Economic Barriers to Transition®

Board of Directors

Crosby Rowe MTF is currently run by Crosby, who has the roles of Chair of the Board, Director, President, Treasurer and Secretary. Crosby is a graduate of Stanford University (B.A., Economics) and received J.D. and M.B.A. degrees from Santa Clara University. She practiced law for approximately 30 years, serving as General Counsel and/or Corporate Secretary to leading financial services providers. Crosby has supported a variety of non-profit organizations and also has served as a non-profit director. She is leveraging her experience helping establish medical financing programs in the consumer financial services industry to establish a grant program that combines an intuitive application process with strong internal controls and HIPPA-compliant data management. In her personal life, Crosby is a transgender woman who has transitioned and is passionate about helping others for whom surgery is part of their transitions. Crosby is expected to spend an average of approximately 60 hours a month on MTF matters.

Tangee Holub Tangee is the owner of Eastside Electrology and has been a practicing electrologist for over 7 years. Many of her clients are from the transgender community in the Pacific Northwest. As a service provider to, and ally of, the transgender community, Tangee is very knowledgeable on the transition process and medical providers who serve transgender individuals. She is also a successful real estate investor. Tangee has previously served on non-profit boards. Tangee is expected to spend an average of approximately 4 hours per month on MTF matters.

Theresa Scott Theresa Scott is a transitioned transgender woman, and a passionate supporter of the transgender community. She created “Happily Theresa’s Place” (theresas179.weebly.com), a website to educate and inform trans women and others. It tells her personal life experience, and developments of importance to the transgender community. Theresa serves as moderator every other week for the “Trans Women’s Peer Support Group” at the “Portland Q-Center,” Oregon’s leading LGBTQ community center. She is also an experienced public speaker on topics related to the transgender community. Theresa is an electronics industry professional with over 35 years experience in the industry. She previously served for 7 years on another non-profit board. Theresa matriculated at Occidental College and received her BA and MBA from George Fox University. Theresa is expected to spend an average of approximately 4 hours per month on MTF matters.
